APPLICATION FOR THE POST OF CHIEF PRINCIPAL LECTURER II

I would like to apply for the above advertised position in Kenya School of Government.

I am a Kenyan man, aged 52, currently working as a Senior Principal Lecturer in The Kenya School of Government, Baringo Campus. I am currently the Head of Training and Business Development Department. My job entails management of the department in addition to training. I also do research and consultancy work.

I have a PhD in Business Administration (DBA) Human Resource Management from Kabarak, an MBA from Kenyatta University and a Bachelor of Education degree from Moi University. I have a lot of management experience in the educational sector having been school principal of two different high schools in Kenya and being a head of department in Kenya School of Government. As a facilitator, my interaction with senior government officers has enabled me accumulate a lot of knowledge through the knowledge sharing approach that we use in training. I have also benefitted from the many capacity building programmes including international programmes facilitated by The School of Government. I am the campus' ISO Management Representative and my duties include coordinating the quality management system. As a consultant, I have offered consultancy to different clients including Kenya Water Institute, The County Governments of Elgeyo, Narok and Nyamira among others.

I believe I will deliver very well if given the opportunity.

Thanks.
