Kenya School of Government	Senior Supply Chain Management Officer	Kenya	02 Aug 2019	09 Apr 2025	Baringo	1. In 2024, I helped manage procurement of goods and services to cater for over 350 participants who were undergoing one month induction at a go along other participants and clients in the regular courses and conference at Baringo Campus. This was major task that required managing supplies and ensuring all the hosted clients received services and thus I had to coordinate the suppliers to deliver the goods to ensure the campus operations run smoothly with the great number of participants. 2. Since 2019, I have endeavoured to ensure the water bottling plant in Baringo Campus is fully operational through acquisition of accessories and regular services with the recent purchase of Best code machine which does bunch number, manufacture and expire date generation. So far, the plant has been able to successfully supply water for internal use at the Baringo Campus as well as it occasionally supplies water to Nairobi and Embu. 3. When, I reported in Baringo in 2019, i found most of the procurement staff had low morale and had little education. I have constantly encouraged my colleagues in the procurement department to pursue further studies. So far two have graduated with Bachelors degree and their morale has improved significantly. 4. As the project leader for the construction of executive residential cottages in Baringo, in 2019 we constructed 30 cottages through labour based method reducing the cost by 75 % if the assignment was to be done by a contractor. These iconic Professor Francis Kibera Cottages have helped Baringo Campus to accommodate high level government officials who would otherwise not be comfortable in the regular hostel facilities. The facility has come in handy in bridging participant accommodation deficit and enables the Campus to attract and possibly retain high profile clientele especially in senior programs such as the SLDP and has reduced the Campus reliance on the thin outsourced accommodation within Kabarnet town, saving expenditure and time besides exceeding client satisfaction.	My role entails the following: 1. Oversee supply chain function at the Campus, 2. Providing professional opinion to the accounting officers on matters procurement, 3. Guiding, mentoring and coaching supply chain management staff, 4. Coordinating preparation of the campus wide annual procurement plan and assets disposal plans, 5. Organizing period stakeholder/ vendor training, 6. Member of campus project implementation committee, 7. Implementation of campus annual performance contracts 8. Stakeholder management 9. Member of campus resource mobilization committee
