The Director General,
Kenya School of Government
P.O. Box 23030 – 00604
Lower Kabete
Nairobi, Kenya.
Dear Sir

RE: Application for the Position of Chief Principal Lecturer II

I am writing to express my strong interest in the position of Chief Principal Lecturer II at the Kenya School of Government (KSG), as advertised. With over nineteen years of progressive experience in training, research, consultancy, and institutional leadership, including over six years in the grade of Senior Principal Lecturer. I am confident in my ability to contribute to KSG's strategic foundation.

Holding a Bachelor of Economics (Agric) and a Master of Science in Research Methods, I have successfully demonstrated academic, managerial, and technical proficiency across multiple domains, including performance management, monitoring and evaluation, change management, human resource planning and research process. My certification in Training of Trainers (ToT), Senior Management, and Strategic Leadership among other professional certifications, alongside my active membership in the Kenya Association of Public Administration and Management (KAPAM), align well with the academic and professional requirements for this role.

My achievements at KSG and other public sector engagements reflect a deep commitment to excellence. I have developed curricula and training manuals, such as the Basic Statistics module for ACIPSM, which significantly improved pass rates from below 60% to over 95%. I have also designed and delivered strategic plans for institutions like NCPWD, Baringo County, and spearheaded county-level TNAs and performance contracts, collaborating with county governments and the Ministry Performance Secretariat.

As a lead facilitator in research methods and results based M&E, I have supervised numerous student projects, disseminated findings through forums and internal academic platforms including work on building resilience through livelihood diversification. My leadership capabilities are further demonstrated through the coordination of multi-disciplinary teams for training and research, development of marketing strategies, preparation of policies, plans and successful mentoring of junior faculty and staff.

I am particularly passionate about advancing public service through impactful research, innovative training approaches, and strategic advisory services. I bring with me not only technical expertise and scholarly contributions but also a team-building flair, adaptability to emerging technologies, and a deep understanding of the School's mandate and operating environment.

I welcome the opportunity to contribute to KSG's continued leadership in public sector capacity development and look forward to discussing how I can support KSG mission further.

Thank you for considering my application.

Yours faithfully,

Januaris Mbatha
