The Director General,
Kenya School of Government,
P.O. Box 23030 – 00604,
Lower Kabete Road
Lower Kabete, NAIROBI.

Dear Sir,

RE: APPLICATION FOR THE POSITION OF CHIEF PRINCIPAL LECTURER
II: KSG 3 – JOB REF. NUMBER CPL II/02/2024-25

I am delighted, pursuant to internal advertisement Ref. No. KSG/HQS/ADM/3/34 of March 26, 2024 to submit my application for the position of Chief Principal Lecturer II, Job Group KSG-3.

My career goal is to provide leadership in capacity development that bears a transformative effect on the Public Service through training, research, publications, consultancy, advisory and outreach services. Pursuant to this aspiration, I have worked in Public Service milieu for 34 years, where I have gained expert experience in the roles ascribed to this position, including resource mobilization, coaching and mentorship in structured and non-structured learning settings leading to enhanced efficiency in execution of national development and institutional strategic programs.

My academic qualifications namely, Ph.D. in Education, Master of Education (Educational Management) and Bachelor of Education (Arts) together with the on-the-job experience in the teaching and training, education management, human resource development, social infrastructure development and capacity development for the Public Service provide me with a firm foundation for advancing the course of the Kenya School of Government in public sector transformation.

I have made significant contributions that testify to the transformative nature of my leadership, management and scholarly works which I wish to summarize as follows:

1. I have been recognized as an exemplary teacher and awarded a certificate of recognition for attaining position one in the Division in performance of History, Social Ethics and Christian Religious Education Subjects where most students attained grade A and B.
2. As secretary to the taskforce on Computerization, I contributed to the development of a digital system that enhanced efficiency in the national selection and placement of Kenya Primary Education graduates into form one in secondary schools.
3. Resource mobilization through preparation of winning grant proposals such as the one submitted to Organizations of Petroleum Exporting Countries that supported Basic Education Improvement Project in both primary and secondary schools. The business development function has provided opportunity to continue mobilizing resources and revenue for KSG from ministries, departments, Agencies and Counties (MDCAs) and international development partners. As Director Academic Affairs, I have successfully steered resource mobilization initiatives through which funds and grants have been realised from development partners, particularly from World Food Program, UNICEF & ILO who have financed development of multiple curricula in social protection, sponsored participants in the programs and trained 31 KSG academic staff as part of institutional strengthening to deliver training in social protection. I have also successfully negotiated two seats for the School at the Steering and Technical Committees of the United Nations Sustainable Development Cooperation Framework, Kenya (UNSDCF 2022-2026) where critical decisions are made regarding priority programs. The School has been identified as the primary institution for sustaining capacity development, including research and development in the field of social protection. These programs have now been mainstreamed and have become regular revenue earners from MDACs. Currently, we are finalizing negotiations with Deriswanaag (Good neighborliness) Project, where the School will train national administration officials of Juba Land State of Somalia, having submitted a proposal that has won a grant from Dutch and UK Governments.

4. While working at the Ministry of State for Public Service, I was privileged to participate in development of the Human Resource Management and Development Policy and Procedure manual and the Public Service Competency Framework.
5. While working as Director for Embu Campus during the transition to KSG, I re-engineered the institution and the business processes by ensuring that the systems were tamper proof and that the organizational work culture was well aligned. As a result, the performance of the Campus improved in terms of uptake of training programs and revenue flows.
6. As Director Academic Affairs at KSG, I have stewarded and coordinated preparation, review and implementation of learning and development policies and guidelines; research projects; and quality assurance in implementation through audits, monitoring, evaluation and reporting mechanisms.
7. Developed a strategy that revitalized research in the School leading to: (a) increased outputs by faculty, (b) re-engineering KSG Research Forums, (c) preparation for publishing the first Issue of the KSG owned Eastern Africa Journal of Public Affairs, and (d) prioritization of KSG commissioned research in line with the think tanks policy, with increased engagement of industry and practice experts making research quite responsive to the public sector needs.
8. Development and implementation of Publishing Guidelines that will revitalize production and dissemination of research outputs and provide additional revenue through publications made under the KSG Press that is currently under operationalization.
9. I have published a book both in print and ebook and articles in peer reviewed journals that are accessible on the following links:
 - a. <http://dx.doi.org/10.6007/IJARBSS/v12-i6/14087>

 - d. <http://researcharchive.vuw.ac.nz/handle/10063/1000>
 - e. <http://eclik.ubd.edu.bn/cgi-bin/gw/chameleon>
10. I have supervised student research projects at Masters degree (2) and Diploma (5) levels and numerous in senior programs offered at KSG as detailed in my resume.
11. I have continued to present papers in conferences and symposia, the latest being the 2023 Social Protection Conference held at KSG in April 3-6, 2023 where I presented a paper entitled: The Journey Towards an Innovative Curriculum Development for Social Protection Practitioners.

12. Coordination of development, review and validation of 156 training curricula out of which 92 add to the KSG portfolio while 64 contribute to the Capacity Injection Project for technical assistance to Federal Republic of Somalia (24) and Puntland State of Somalia (40).
13. Development and implementation of Examinations Management Guidelines that provide the principles and quality standards applied in examinations conducted by the School as part of training and building capacity of faculty.
14. I have remained actively involved in leading in the provision of consultancy service first through development and implementation of Consultancy Services Guidelines to streamline the processes, enhance quality of the outputs and increase revenue for the School. Secondly, I have successfully led and completed consultancy assignments in projects such as strategic planning, organizational development and curriculum development and review among others.
15. Reviewed the Library Services Guidelines in accordance with Commission for University standards and other accredited library norms.
16. Developed policy framework to guide implementation of Outreach Programs that have enriched faculty competencies for action-oriented research and policy advisory.
17. Prepared and secured accreditation of KSG training programs in accordance with Kenya National Quality Authority (KNQA) framework and the subsequent award of the following certificates to the School:
 - a. Accreditation of KSG as a Qualification Awarding Institution and
 - b. Registration of Qualifications wherein thirteen (13) KSG training programs have been accredited.
 - c. Preparation of documents and acquisition of copyrights for the thirteen (13) KSG training programs accredited by the KNQA.
18. Registration of 27 curricula with Kenya National Copyright Board to protect KSG's intellectual property. Additional achievement are detailed in my application and resume which I am attaching for your kind reference.

The purpose of this letter, therefore, is to humbly request for consideration for the position of Chief Principal Lecturer II so as to continue advancing the course of scholarship at the School.

Yours faithfully,

Josephine Mwanzia, Ph.D.
