Kenya School of Government
Nairobi, Kenya

RE: Application for the Position of Senior Research Fellow

Dear Sir/ Madam,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the position of Senior Research Fellow at the Kenya School of Government (KSG). With over half a decade of experience leading strategic public sector programs, performance monitoring frameworks, institutional development, and data-driven policy design, I am confident in my ability to support the School's mission of fostering excellence in public service.

In my current role as PhD Fellow for the Mental Health Data Harmonization Project, funded by the Wellcome Trust, I oversee multi-country research collaborations focused on data governance, regional planning, and longitudinal mental health research across East and West Africa. My responsibilities include leading complex studies, managing cross-institutional research networks, and producing actionable evidence to inform policy and programming. These functions directly align with KSG's role in generating knowledge to advance public sector innovation and reform.

During my tenure at the Kenya School of Government, I facilitated institutional performance audits, risk management workshops, and county-level strategic planning processes. Notably, I contributed to the development of the Strategic Plan and Customer Service Charter for the Margaret Kenyatta Institute of Gender and Social Development, incorporating citizen feedback loops, performance indicators, and ISO-aligned accountability mechanisms. These experiences equipped me with firsthand understanding of KSG's mandate and its contribution to national and county public sector transformation.

Academically, I hold a PhD in Health Systems Management (under examination), an MSc in Applied Statistics, and a Bachelor's degree in Financial Engineering. I am currently pursuing an MSc in Data Science from Deakin University, Australia. My professional training includes a Management Course from KSG, a Leadership in Organizations Certificate from UNICAF University. These credentials reflect my continued commitment to academic rigor and applied research in governance, leadership, and public service delivery.

I bring strong expertise in research methodology, economic modeling, evidence synthesis, and performance measurement. I am adept in using data science tools (Python and R) to support policy impact assessments, strategic foresight, and government reform tracking. I have also led the development of knowledge products—including policy briefs, dashboards, and academic publications—tailored for senior policymakers and public managers.

It would be a privilege to contribute to KSG's knowledge generation agenda, offering high-quality research and analysis that informs public policy, enhances institutional capacity, and drives forward Kenya's public sector transformation. I am enthusiastic about collaborating with faculty and government stakeholders to expand the School's research footprint and support evidence-informed governance.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my experience and research interests align with the objectives of the Kenya School of Government.

Warm regards,

Bylhah Mugotitsa.
